

Chile Independence

External causes

Internal causes

USA Independence

in 1776 What influence Chile of USA Independence was that they (chile) said why they can Independence and we not?

Enlightenment era from 17 to 18 century What happened in this era was that people start to think and give opinions about things almost nobody think about

French Revolution (Napoleon) starts in 1789

French revolution influence Chile because they capture the King of Spain and that do that we make our first government junta and our Independence process.

Jesuits Expulsion (1776)

The Spanish people expulsed Jesuits because as they educate people they become intelligent and intelligent people that can opinate and Spanish didn't want that, also they (Jesuits) donate money to poor people.

Creole discontent

Creole discontent was one of the most important reason for Chile independence because creoles don't like the Bourbon reforms and also because they couldn't be in high places of politics, etc.

Bourbon reforms (1778) Bourbon reforms were an important factor to Chile independence because the changes it did were very bad for creoles that were upset because of this the changes like free market that didn't allow trade with people that were not Spanish, also the high taxes that mean they had to pay more to the King and that didn't like to the creoles so they wanted to independence.

USA.
independence

Reflection Questions

- 1. This happened because USA in 1776 wanted to be independent to have their own rules, people who born there be from America (USA) and not from UK, etc.
- 2. Tis was important for chile Independence because it make people start to think why USA could become independent and we can't?
- 3. The consequences were that chile start his process to become independent including this and other factors.